Village OK's Request For Park Grants

by KAREN WILTBERGER

The Antioch Village Board Aug. 19 authorized the park department to apply for three grants for the installation of fitness courses in three Antioch parks.

If the grants are approved by Wells Fargo Gamefield, a national fitness campaign, the grants will pay for 85 percent of the installation costs of the courses, which would run about $1,500 to $1,800 per course. The village would be responsible for the other 15 percent.

Glenda Tomaschik, director of parks and recreation, said if the grants are approved, the three courses will be the first fitness courses in Antioch.

The first priority course is a senior citizen walking course, designated to be at Gage Brothers Park, Tomaschik said.

Second priority is a fitness course to be at Jensen Park, and third priority is a jogging course to be at Williams Park, she said.

Tomaschik said that for the exception of the Antioch Area Senior Center, senior citizens have little available to them.

Fitness, she said, is important these days and Antioch, though it does have two fitness centers, is lacking outdoor facilities for fitness.

Tomaschik said if the grants are approved, the village would likely install the courses this fall. The village would also maintain the courses, she said.

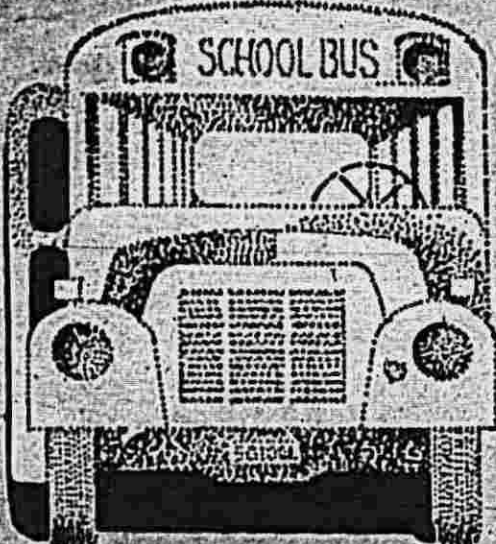

"I just hope we get them," Tomaschik said. "Anything that we can add to the parks in our financial situation is a good thing."

The board also voted to take down the sign in front of Reeve's Drug Store on Main Street because it does not conform to a village ordinance prohibiting overhanging signs.

It also approved the hiring of a part-time dispatcher, Elizabeth Smouse, on a probationary basis.

The board adjourned its meeting until Monday, Aug. 26. The scheduled Sept. 2 meeting has been moved to Tuesday, Sept. 3 because of Labor Day.

Corp. Manufactures Milestone Meter

Liquid Controls Corporation celebrated production of its 150,000th positive displacement meter at the company's North Chicago headquarters.

The meters measure volume and rate-of-flow of any liquid and are commonly used for tank trucks, pipelines, aircraft loading vehicles, and industrial process control.

The company's products are sold worldwide to the petroleum, chemical, food, cosmetics, paint and agricultural industries. Export sales account for 25 percent of total sales volume.

The first meter was built in 1954 by Peter J. Contoyanis, then a machinist, now vice president of Manufacturing and Engineering. For the past 30 years, a complete line of positive displacement meters has been developed and manufactured by Liquid Controls Corporation. Ancillary products include counters, filters, air eliminators, valves and temperature compensators.

Liquid Controls Corporation was founded in 1954 by Frederick G. Wacker, Jr., of Lake Bluff, who serves as president and chairman of the board. Fred G. Wacker III is vice president. The company employs 175 people in the Lake County area and is headquartered in a 90,000 sq. ft. facility on Waukegan Rd. in North Chicago.

Men's Garden Club Sets Fall Flower Show

All area gardeners are invited to enter their home-grown flowers and vegetables in the 41st Annual Fall Flower and Vegetable Show to be held at the Belvidere Mall Central Court on Aug. 24 and 25, sponsored by the Men's Garden Club of Waukegan. All entries are free.

Entries will be accepted at the back door (south) entrance where the registration committee (Richard Mauck) will assign exhibitor numbers and entry tags. Vases for flowers, plates for vegetables, classification suggestions, and show schedules are the province of Louis Zegar.

Co-ordination Chairman Klass Vanderlip said that show schedule rules will be strictly followed as to number of entries of each variety and numbers of entries per exhibit.

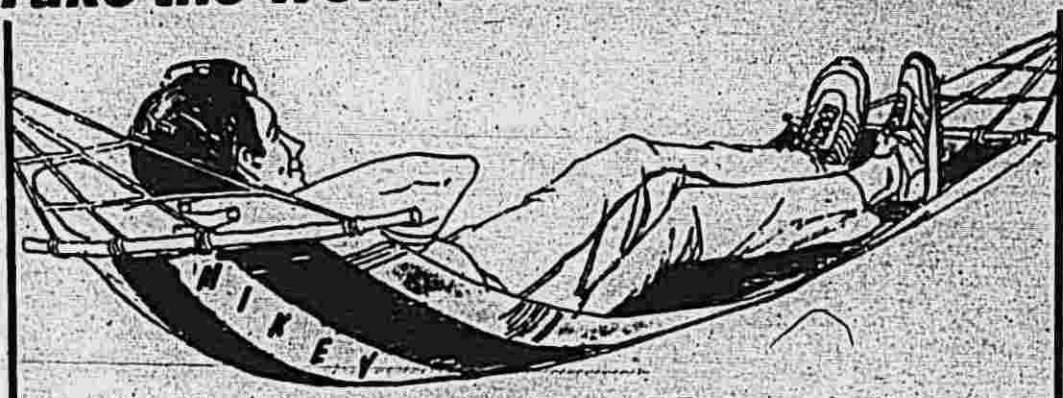

Exhibits may be entered on Friday evening, Aug. 23 from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Aug. 24 from 7 to 10 a.m. No entries will be accepted after 10 a.m. when Alfred Marro's staff will begin its chore of judging entries. Since each entry is judged towards perfection, each has an equal chance for blue, red, or white ribbon and rosette awards.

The 13 sections have 60 classes to cover the wide range of floral and produce entries possible in this area including potted plants, African Violets, annuals, perennials, dahlias, roses, gladiolas and about 30 classes for vegetable entries. A special section is open to junior exhibitors, 8 to 16 years of age.

Traveling trophies will be awarded to members in good standing for deserving exhibits, including a miniature permanent cup in each section. A traveling trophy by the Belvidere Merchant's Association will be awarded to the most points in show for non-member winner.

Boy Scout Campout

Nineteen boys in Antioch's Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 spent two weeks at Camp Owasispe, Michigan, where they collectively earned 85 merit badges.

Boy Scouts Earn 85 Badges At Camp

Antioch's Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 earned 85 merit badges at their annual two-week summer campout at Camp Owasispe, Michigan. The camp, one of America's largest scout reservations, is located fifteen miles north of Muskegon. Camp Owasispe provides a wealth of opportunities for scouts to acquire knowledge and skills relevant to the outdoors, obtain team and leadership experience, and have lots of fun.

The troop's 19 scouts collectively surpassed last year's earned number of badges. The merit badges earned include Indian lore, orienteering, pioneering, wilderness survival, basketry, fishing, sports, and cooking. Scouts David Weston, Eric Anderson, and Mike Cain each earned eight to nine merit badges, which reflects an outstanding level of participation.

Other scouts also worked hard, including J. Bruski, Chris Clark, Steve Goetzleman, Bob Heywood, Brian Paschke, Ed Ponsonby, Dan Ravens, Andy Reeves, Shawn Reeves, Kurt Siebel, Daniel Weston, Ken Wisniewski, Kieth Wisniewski and Keven Wisniewski, each earning three to six merit badges.

In other individual achievements, Eric Anderson, Brian Clark and Bob Paschke completed Project COPE (Challenging Outdoor Physical Experiences). Project COPE, a tough twenty-hour Outward Bound-type program, teaches teamwork, trust and self-confidence in the context of simulated problem solving situations.

Brian Clark and Bob Paschke were elected by their peers to the Order of the Arrow, a national scouting organization that recognizes scouts' contributions and advancement with a local troop. The two scouts were "tapped-out" at a special Camp Owasispe campfire along with scouts from other troops.

This year the Camp Owasispe Mile Swim patch was earned by Eric Anderson, Bob Heywood, Ed Ponsonby and twice by Shawn Reeves. Steve Goetzleman won the camp's Largest Fish Award during the troop's first week with an 18-inch large mouth bass. His father, Bill Goetzleman, won the same award in the leader category by catching a 19½-inch large mouth bass. Finally, J. Bruski won second place in the "bathing beauty" contest held each Friday afternoon.

The troop completed an all-day canoe trip down Michigan's White River during its first week at camp. For their efforts in maintaining a very clean camp and making camp improvements, Troop 92 won the Baden Powell Award (named after the founder of scouting) for each of the two weeks.

The leaders who attended camp during the first week include Scoutmaster Bernie Dost, committee chairman Harold Clark, Assistant Scoutmaster Bill Goetzleman, and committee member Jay Bruski. During the second week, support and supervision was provided by assistant scoutmasters Dick Weston and Ken Wisniewski and by committee members John Cain and Don Gade. Other parents assisted by driving the scouts to the camp, a 260-mile trip from Antioch.

Scouts were able to earn their way to camp by selling meat raffle tickets during the spring months.

Troop 92 provides other camping experiences for the scouts with funds obtained from the collection of newspapers and aluminum cans. Area residents are asked to continue bringing them to the VFW trailer parked by the sawmill. Newspapers may be bundled by string or placed in grocery bags, but books, magazines, cardboard, and slick print advertising can not be used.

Stringent Rules Make School Buses Safest

by GLORIA DAVIS

With the annual ringing of the school bells not too far away, parents all over Lake County are getting ready for the yearly change their children make, moving from the all-day auspices of the parents to that of the school system.

Most parents have the habit of worrying about their children when they are out of sight, not only about their behavior, but parents like to be sure that their children are safe on the way to during classes at school, and on the way home.

With all the publicity given the new seat belt law in Illinois, many parents are wondering if their kids are safe riding in buses without seat belts.

Of course the bus drivers are mandated to wear belts just like every other driver.

The schools in the Lake County School System, for the most part, all own operate and maintain their own buses, hire the bus drivers and are responsible for the children from the time they board the bus until they get off of it after school.

The transportation departments of all the Lake County Schools fall under the direction of the Lake County School Superintendent's office and also that of the State Dept. of Transportation.

Reasons for not making school buses install seat belts given by legislators who failed to include school buses in the recently passed seat belt law and by educators are threefold.

No definite statistics were available to show exactly how much safer this would make children.

Secondly, the mandated wearing of the belts would have to be monitored to be enforced.

Even if the schools were willing and able to spend the money adding a seat-belt monitor to each and every bus, it would be difficult if not impossible for the monitor to know if the children were keeping their belts buckled during the entire trip, since they would be at one part of the bus once it was moving. It is against the law for anyone, monitor included, to walk the aisle to check and see if the kids are still buckled-up.

A few years ago, a government safety agency released results of experiments that involved school buses in accidents with other vehicles under varied circumstances. The study showed that, if the standard bus being used by most of the schools in the United States, is struck midships by a compact car, almost 60 percent of the children on board would be injured or killed.

Whether or not that study was valid, no more was heard or discussed on the matter in the media or in the school systems.

Reports that some school buses are being driven by irresponsible people, some of whom have been known to be under the influence of alcohol or drugs even while driving the buses, have proved to be unfounded so far.

The requirements for becoming a school bus driver in Lake County call for strict checks and rules that come straight from the Lake County School Superintendent's office and are policed and controlled at the local level.

According to Principal Bud Scott, Grant High School has eight buses on the roads, some that make double runs. All of Scott's drivers are women and all of them are long-time area residents. Two fender benders that were not the bus driver's fault were the only blemishes on Grant's bus record inside of the last two years.

Richard Stueber, the

director of buildings, grounds and transportation for Round Lake High School, said that the school operates 16 full size buses and three mini-buses for children in special education classes. He has mostly women drivers.

"We've not even had a fender bender since I've been here," said Stueber, adding that the longevity-rate of the drivers ran from 14 years to three years.

"Every month we have a meeting to discuss reports, we have gotten and any problems that might interfere with the buses' safety records.

Drivers must have an annual physical, annual upgrading course on safety procedures and laws, plus they are constantly being monitored.

"THE INJURY RATE FOR SCHOOL BUS RIDERS PER MILE DRIVEN IS PROBABLY THE LOWEST OF ANY TRAFFIC STATISTIC."

"We keep a constant running check, not only on the driving records, but the personal behavior records of those we hire to drive our school buses," said Gordon Wells, Antioch High School.

"I can't remember the last time I hired someone out of the school district," said Wells.

Dr. Don Skidmore, superintendent of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34, said that anyone who is applying for the job of driver, whose background investigation shows any moving violations within the last three years or any felony convictions anywhere or anytime, will automatically be rejected at the lower level, before they even get a chance to take the county tests.

"The requirements for a school bus driver are probably the most stringent ones asked of any public employee," said Skidmore.

"They really can't get away with infractions because people call and tell us. I've also followed buses occasionally, just checking," he added.

Any arrest or moving vehicle violation committed by a bus driver even in a vehicle other than the school bus is automatically reported to the school district.

"The injury rate per-mile-driven is probably the lowest of any traffic statistic," Skidmore said.

Thomas Rudd, in charge of transportation at Warren High School, drove the first Warren bus 46 years ago. Warren gets new buses every year and will have 17 new ones this fall.

The only accidents he can remember happen in the parking lot when a bus backs into a tree, etc.

Warren's drivers are 50 percent male and 50 percent female.

According to Pete Pekarnin of Antioch High School, after applicants pass the first investigations, they must take a 12-hour course sponsored by the county superintendent's office and a two hour refresher course each year.

"I can't remember the last time I hired someone that was unknown to the school staff," he said.

Most schools reported either none, or simply one or two fender benders, none the fault of the school bus driver, within the last two years.

Schools that have minibuses used for special trips and to transport special education students usually have these equipped with seat belts.

Most of the school staff members talked to also felt that children could be hurt worse if they were hit by a seat belt buckle being swung around by another child, than they would be in an accident.

But not everyone feels that way. The City of Chicago last year passed an ordinance requiring seat belts to be installed in all school buses driven inside the city.

Chicago even requires visiting school buses to have them although this goes the same way that the seat belt law does, no enforcement takes place unless the bus is pulled over for another traffic violation.

Recently the City of Arlington Heights was involved in a court battle concerning the City of Chicago and one of its school buses in this kind of situation, Arlington Heights won.

Dave Bonner, transportation director of Grayslake High School and Avon Grade School Dist., reported that Grayslake has two new buses coming for the '85-'86 school year that will be equipped with seat belts.

"We'll use those on field trips to Chicago," he said.

Skidmore said that in his opinion, one of the reasons that school buses have such a great safety record nationally "is because most of the drivers are women and they have children themselves, so they are extra cautious."

Increasing Iron Intake Without Liver Possible

by PAT DE ANGELIS

Question: How can I increase my dietary iron intake without liver?

Answer: The recommended daily allowances for iron intake is 10 milligrams for men and 18 milligrams for women. Although liver is an excellent source of iron there are many other foods that contain adequate iron.

Like all minerals, dietary intake is only half the need. The other half deals with body absorption and utilization. Four ounces of liver, for example, contain approximately 10 milligrams of iron. But most likely you will only absorb about two and one-half milligrams. If you have any malabsorption-digestion problems you may absorb even less.

Pat D's Nutrition Today

Pat DeAngelis is a nutrition therapist at American International Hospital, Zion. Readers with questions about the food and liquid they consume are invited to address questions to Pat D's Nutrition Today, Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, Ill. 60030.

Other vitamins and minerals can aid or interfere with absorption, especially of iron. Beef, especially liver, has a high content of iron along with vitamin C, copper and riboflavin, which aid in absorption once the beef is broken down to the necessary amino acids. Beef in general, however is hard to digest and necessitates many pancreatic enzymes for the process.

If you have any digestive disorder, liver may not be your best source of iron. Poultry and fish have a little less iron content but are easier to digest and most likely the iron is more readily available.

Other sources of iron include blackstrap molasses, almonds, lima beans, sunflower seeds, broccoli, kidney beans, prunes, raisins, brewers yeast and peas. By combining these foods with foods containing large amounts of vitamin C, riboflavin, and copper you will increase the iron usability.

Here are some helpful foods:

Vitamin C foods: Citrus fruits, berries and green vegetables.

Riboflavin: Yogurt, almonds, Swiss Cheese and ricotta cheese.

Copper: Cashews, mushrooms, peanuts, walnuts and sesame seeds.

There are several dietary factors that can interfere with iron absorption and utilization. These are Tannic acid from tea, coffee, phosphates (soda pop), EDTA (food additive), high fiber diet, low caloric diet (especially weight control), increased cadmium and lead (air pollution), and ant-acids. Coffee, tea, and "pop" should be taken in moderation and should be taken in between meals.

Iron supplementation is often necessary, especially for menstruating women, post surgical patients, and vegetarians. When taking iron supplements they should be taken in between meals and approximately eight hours away from Vitamin E intake.

Also, ferrous fumarate, a source of iron, appears to cause less side-effects of constipation than ferrous sulfate.

Acquire 3 New Members

The Round Lake Area Chamber of Commerce & Industry acquired three new members at its August meeting.

'Piper' To Genesee

Coming August 23 - 25 to the Historic Genesee Theatre in Waukegan, is the "Pied Piper," a full scale musical production featuring a lavish set recreating the Alpine setting of Hamelin.

This community production features lively music directed by Jeff Johnson and choreography by Mary Monica Thomas.

The classic tale of the town plagued by rats and pompous politics is told primarily through songs such as "Love is the Answer" which shows an alternative for the citizens of Hamelin (and perhaps for modern day society).

The performances are the culmination of the Genesee Theatre Summer Theatre Workshop. The young people participating in the workshop will be joined for the performances by several area community theatre veterans including Janet Lindsey who plays the Pied Piper.

"The Pied Piper" is sponsored by the Genesee Theatre and the Cultural Arts Assn. and supported by the Waukegan Park Dist., the Waukegan branch of the American Assn. of University Women and a grant from the Waukegan Area Arts Council.

Written and directed by Jeffery Richter, performances are scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Aug. 23 and 24, and 3 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 25. Tickets are $4 for adults, $2.50 for students, and seniors. For additional information call the Genesee Theatre (312) 336-0428.

Force Productions Promos Local Bands

by GLORIA DAVIS

A budding band promoter has surfaced in Lakeland's area. Joseph Noeller of Trevor has formed Force Productions and embarked on a project dedicated to bringing bands from Lake and McHenry Counties out of the basements and rehearsal halls to be "a part of the biggest recording project ever to be done in this area."

The plan includes the recording of a record album titled "County Rocks." Each band will be allowed 3.50 minutes or less of recording time on the album.

Noeller is looking for 20 bands from both counties which are willing to pay $300 up front to cover the costs involved in setting up the album.

The bands can record the song of their choice in a recording studio also of their own choosing, as long as it is in 24-track or 16-track recording.

Photos of each band will be taken, as well as information on the band members, for use on the album, the cost of which is included in the initial fee.

Force productions then plans to book these bands as a result of the album's expected popularity.

Advertising promotions are set with local radio, cable tv and newspapers and, in January the Edgewater in Twin Lakes will host the bands all month long, each band receiving $100 per performance.

The album will be sent to major recording companies and Noeller is planning a tour of area high schools and colleges with a boost to the album's sales in mind.

Each band will also receive 10 copies of the album.

The deadline for bands to apply is Sept. 30 and Oct. 11 is the deadline for payment of the $300.

For more information bands can write to Force Productions, P. O. Box 187, Trevor, WI., 53170.

Serbian Bros. Set Ethnic Open House

For those who have wondered what goes on on those mysterious acres off of Grand Ave. and Hwy. 45 in Lindenhurst, it is owned by the Serbian Brothers, an American born group made up of people of Serbian descent who raise money for others of Serbian decent who are in need.

The group's president Alexander Reljic says that the group would like to meet its friends and neighbors through an open house that has been planned for Saturday, Sept. 14.

The event will run from noon to 10 p.m. at the clubhouse where an ethnic dinner will be served. The charge for adults will be $8.

The Serbian menu has authentic beef goulash over noodles, Chorba (soup), salad, Serbian shishkabob and home-made apple strudel and coffee.

The group, which is not a religious one although theirs is an affiliation with the Serbian Monastery in Grayslake, has raised money to help older and disabled veterans of World War 2 and given children scholarships.

Museum To Fete Master

The closest look Chicago and Wisconsin area art lovers will get for a premiere American tour of Rembrandt's etchings is The Milwaukee Public Museum at 8th and Wells Sts. in downtown Milwaukee.

Entitled "Rembrandt's Etchings," the 67 works are being hosted at 15 American museums through 1987 by The Leigh Yawkey Woodson Art Museum of Wausaw, Wis. through special arrangements with the Kunsterhaus Society of Austrian Visual Artists of Vienna, Austria, owners of the collection.

The Milwaukee Public Museum is exhibiting the collection through Sept. 29. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. No Chicago area museums are among the hosts for the Rembrandt tour.

Senior Center Provides Second Home For All

by KAREN WILTBERGER
Ten minutes before noon a smiling, gray-haired man walks through the doors at the Antioch Area Senior Center.

"Hi George," and "How ya doin' George?" accompany George Vollers, 85, as he with the help of a walker finds an empty chair among a table of six or seven senior citizens, who help him get situated.

The German immigrant is considered a regular at the senior center. For eight years, he's missed only a few days.

"When I miss a day, I miss it. I miss the people," says George, who is one of about 40 people who attend the center on any given day.

As a woman sprinkles sugar into his cup of coffee, she looks up. "That's why he comes here so much, everybody caters to him," she says with a chuckle.

George pays $1 for a hot noon lunch at the center. The seniors are asked to donate whatever they can afford. Though it seems $1 is the going rate, nobody will ever know since all donations are anonymous.

The daily lunches, which are scheduled a month in advance, consist of meat, potatoes, vegetables, milk, bread and a fruit dessert, said Paul Howard, coordinator of the center.

The only requirement is that people are 60 years or older, he said. The seniors are asked to register two days in advance for the lunches. If they don't, they're taking a chance of not getting the scheduled meal, he said, adding that another meal could be made when enough food has not been prepared.

Howard has been at the 8-year-old center for only four months, but already he sees the center's personality shine.

"They're a good group of people interested in having a good time," said Howard, who would like more seniors take advantage of the center.

The biggest problem, he said, is getting people to come to the center for the first time, especially if they don't know anyone there. Everyone is welcome, he said, stressing that the center is not a club.

People who get their feet in the door usually feel welcomed and come back, Howard said. "If they don't like it, nobody is going to grab them and make them come back."

For instance, Howard said, a woman was riding a three-wheel bike and stopped outside the center wondering what was inside. He saw her, introduced himself and walked with her inside.

Though she was very hesitant, she's been back every day since, often helping out in the kitchen, he said.

The center is maintained by the Village of Antioch and administered by Catholic Charities. It is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

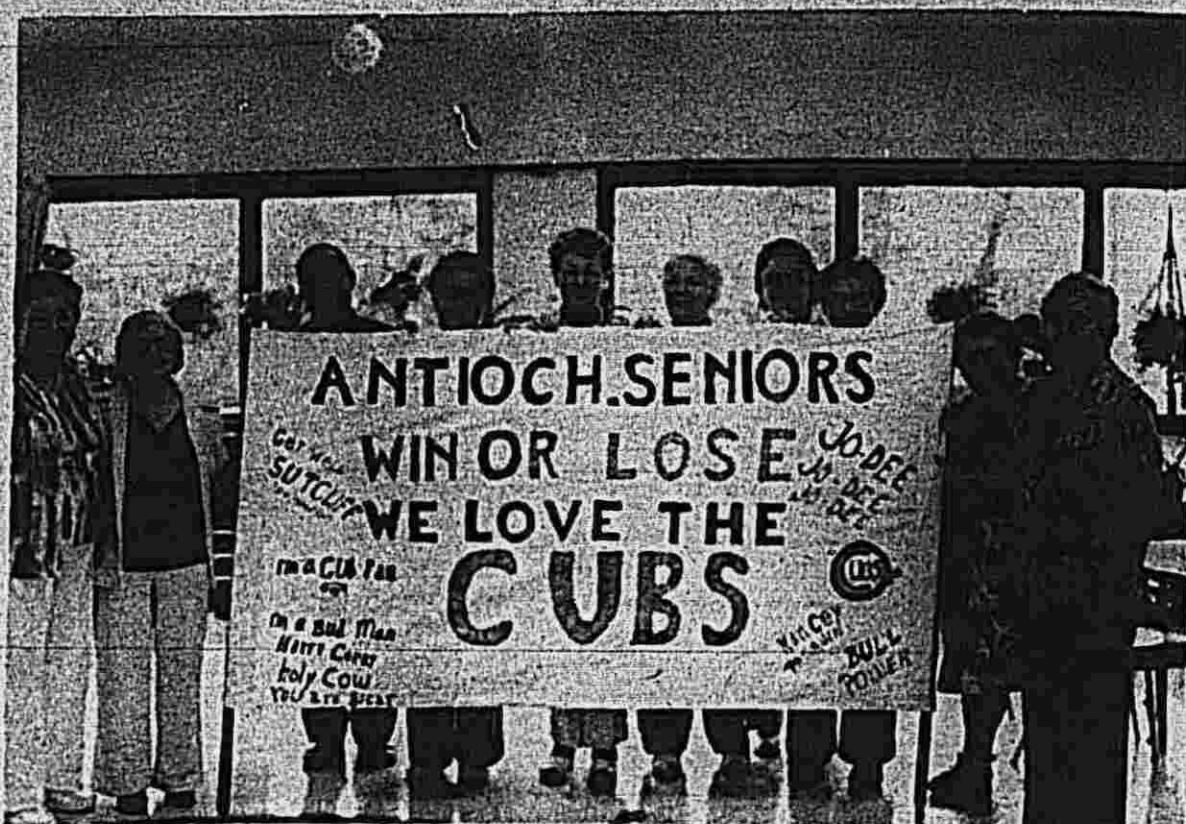

Howard said the center becomes a second home for many of the seniors.

Daily activities include cards, pool and crafts. Bingo is played every Monday at 1 p.m. and a pinocle tournament is held the first three Fridays of the month. Birthday and anniversary parties with live entertainment are held on the last Fridays of the month.

The seniors also can go on two or three trips each month.

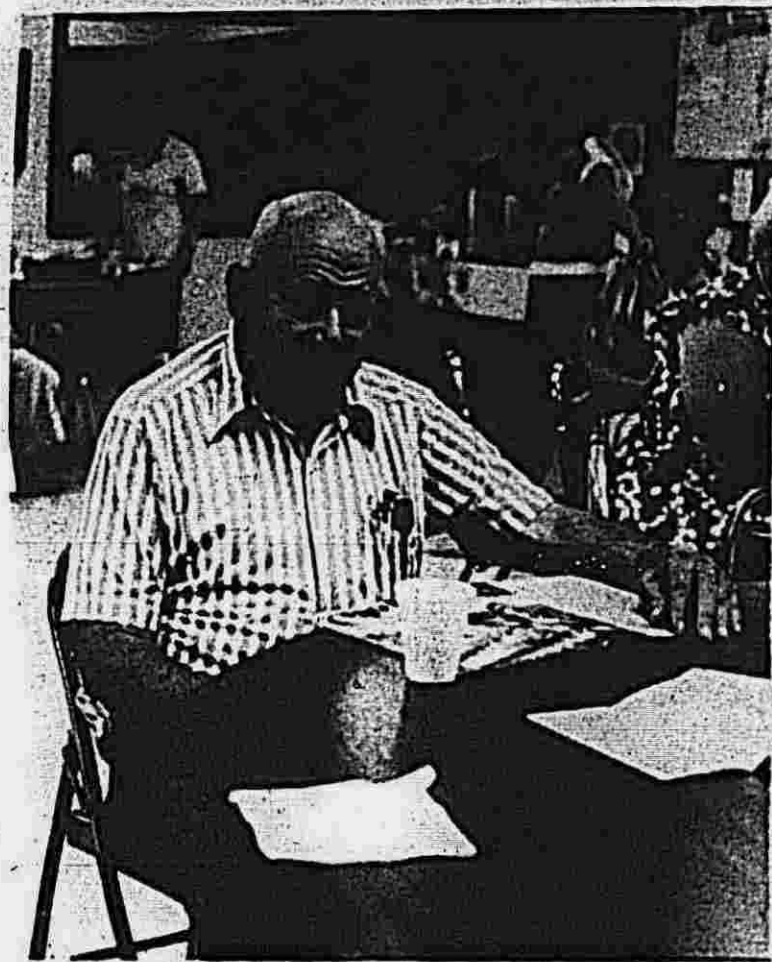

The combination of the center's personality and the seniors' interest in each other and in life makes the center a fun place, Howard said.

For more information stop by the center at 817 Holbek Dr. or call 395-7120.

Second Home

George Vollers, 85, looks up from a Time magazine article he's been reading at the Antioch Area Senior Center. Vollers has missed only a few days at the center since it opened eight years ago.

Bell Makes Rate Proposal

The price of long distance telephone calls within northeastern Illinois would be reduced up to 70 percent, under a new Illinois Bell proposal.

The company also proposed volume discounts for frequent callers and new discounts for calls between 9 p.m. and 8 a.m. daily.

These changes are part of a plan to restructure calling rates in northeastern Illinois and increase most specialized business circuit rates throughout the state. The proposal would not increase Illinois Bell's total revenues.

Local flat-rate calling, at a reduced monthly price, would continue to be offered, but within a smaller calling area. Charges for calls to neighboring communities would be based on how long they last.

"We want to charge customers only for the service they use -- no more, no less," said Dick Miller, Illinois Bell Community Relations Manager. "People who make more calls should pay for the time they use the service. Those who use the phone less, should pay less," he added.

"We face competition in virtually every area of our business and must change our traditional system of pricing some calls above cost to subsidize other services," Miller said.

"If we don't set rates based on cost, some customers will send their calls over private or competitive systems, rather than pay rates that are higher than necessary," he added.

Today's proposed changes are for rates customers pay for the calls they make. The company would not change basic line rates, which are $5.50 or $7 a month for suburban residence customers, depending where they live.

Under the company's proposal, message unit charging would replace long distance charging in northeastern Illinois -- also called Market Service Area One. Charges for most calls over 15 miles in distance would be reduced.

"Since long distance calls traditionally have been priced above cost, rates would be reduced up to 70 percent," Miller said.

For example, a 10-minute call during the day from Fox Lake to Chicago would be reduced by 23 cents, from 94 cents to 71 cents, and 53 cents after 9 p.m.

Local flat-rate calling would be offered within a reduced calling area, and the monthly rate for residence customers reduced by five cents to $1.05, depending on the community, to a proposed rate of $3.80.

This proposed 'flat-rate' service would replace the present Local Area and Metropolitan services.

"Since 70 percent of residence flat-rate calls today are made within the proposed flat-rate calling areas, most local calls would continue to be available for a monthly flat price," Miller said.

Customers also could choose a measured service option, which charges only for calls made.

With either plan, calls to neighboring communities would be charged message units, based on how long they last.

The company also proposed to:

- Discount by 25 percent charges for calls between 9 p.m. and 8 a.m. daily. For example, the 10-minute call from Joliet to Chicago would be reduced an additional 10 cents after 9 p.m., from the proposed daytime rate of 39 cents to 29 cents.

- Introduce a Call-Pak plan with larger calling packages and volume discounts for residence and business customers. The discount on units would increase with the size of the Call-Pak.

- Offer residence Call-Paks ranging in size from 30 to 1,000 units a month with discounts from 17 to 32 percent. Presently, Call-Pak 300 is the largest and provides an 18 percent discount.

- Increase the message unit price anywhere from about a quarter of a cent to about one cent.

- Discontinue offering

Unlimited residence service to new customers and increase its price for existing customers.

- Begin charging additional units for some calls within Chicago, based on how long the calls last.

- Offer business Call-Paks ranging in size from 1,000 to 10,000 units a month with discounts from 12 to 18 percent.

- Eliminate business Telpak and Metroline services.

- Increase most rates for specialized telephone circuits used by businesses throughout the state.

"Increases in specialized business circuit rates would add $30 million to company revenues," Miller said, "which would be offset by a $30 million reduction from restructured calling rates in Market Service Area One."

"We do not intend to implement this plan until eight months after the Illinois Commerce Commission rules on it."

"During this time, we plan to send individualized, four-month billing summaries to all 2.8 million customers in this area. The summaries will analyze customers' calling habits and recommend the most economical service options," he added.

Parents And Children Await The First Day Of School

by ARDEEN HARRIS
(312)395-2761

You can tell that summer is coming to an end with the start of school registration. The kids are getting anxious to see their friends again, and start a new school year. Parents are anxious to get some order back into their lives. With the end of summer and the starting of fall, let's all remember to watch out for the children, especially those on bikes.

Get will wishes go to Adam Hiller who is five years old and was struck by a car last Sunday afternoon. A posted 10 MPH was not heeded. Remember to tell your friends, and children who drive that our rural subdivisions have speed limits and they should be observed. Watch out for the children. If you see a repeated speed offender in your area, call the sheriff so a warning can be issued. If you don't have speed limit signs in your subdivision, call the township road commissioner and get some posted.

By the way, Adam is home and on his way to recovery.

Remember a few weeks ago, I wrote about the volleyball net set up at the school. Well, one of the "old gals" called and is setting up a schedule for indoor volleyball at the Grass Lake School gym. Just like old times, the ladies will be getting together on Tuesday nights starting Sept. 24 from 7 p.m. until ?? If they are up to it, usually three games are played. There is no fee involved. You don't have to have kids in school to play. If you're a lady of high school age or older, keep Sept. 24 in mind and stop by to have some fun. This is a "fun" volleyball game and a lot of laughing—usually follows through the evening. There'll be a few Tuesdays in which the group will not be able to play because of prior commitments of the school gym, but stop by the first night so the group can get your phone number and you can get a copy of the schedule.

Dennis Walsh and Mike Mattson had an exciting weekend in Springfield at the Illinois State Fair. Last Saturday was the day for Lake County 4-H members to have their special projects judged at the state level. Dennis received a blue ribbon and superior rating for his home furnishing, and Mike received a blue ribbon for his entomology exhibit. Dennis was also appointed to be a 4-H ambassador for the 1985-86 4-H Youth Council. Bob Mattson, Jr. was also at the State fair as an observer. He received a Best of Show ribbon at the Lake County Fair for his computer project. Unfortunately, computer projects are not eligible for state fair competition.

Saturday, Aug. 24 and Aug. 31 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and Sunday, Aug. 25 and Sept. 1 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Registration for the youth bowling will be $5 payable at the time of registration. The Friday youth league, for ages 8 to 13, will start at 4 p.m. Their first league game will be Sept. 20. The Saturday youth league at 9 a.m. will be for children 12 to 18 and that league will be starting on Sept. 14. There will be a noon league for children 8 to 11 also starting on Sept. 14. Be sure to stop by the bowling alley to register. The cost for the league weekly bowling will be approximately $3.50.

Be sure to have your calendar marked for the P & B Third annual picnic to be held for the "youth" students of P & B Ceramics.

28. Debbie and Craig Campbell will be celebrating 16 years on Aug. 28. Ardeen and Jim Harris will be celebrating 15 years on Aug. 29. Another dear friend will be celebrating 16 years on Aug. 29 with the initials of P.S. The end of August must be the best time to get married, happy anniversary to you all!

A special birthday wish comes from Mom and Dad Brausam who sent to wish Dinky and Ray Ray a happy birthday. Dinky celebrated his day on Aug. 19 and Ray Ray celebrated his day on Aug. 25. Your mom and dad wish you many many more.

Congratulations are extended to Jenny Harris who participated in her first golf tournament last week at Renwood Country Club in Round Lake. She received a second place trophy in her division of twelve and thirteen-year-old girls. Her first round of 18 holes netted her a score of 115 and her second round netted her a score of 111. Good golfing, Jenny!

Two more candidates have contacted this column, indicating they will be running for a position on the Grass Lake School Board - Mary Beth Walsh and Wayne Cramer. Bob Mattson and Jim Zegler are also running. Jim is the "Jane" in last week's paper.

A reminder to those students who will be participating in the sports program at Grass Lake School. This year a form and a physical exam must be signed by a doctor before a student will be able to participate in the sports program. Grass Lake School has made arrangements with Dr. Paluay from Lake Villa to administer the physicals for $10. He will be at Grass Lake School on Aug. 26 at 3 p.m. and will give the physicals at that time.

Remember to call with your news!

Here's a little Trivia

What do Hank and Ricki Apostol, Dick and Bonnie Arion, and Ralph and Pat Kenyon have in common? Answer: They are new grandparents for the first time! Apostol's daughter Joanne had a baby girl named Jessica, Arion's daughter Delana had a baby boy and so did Kenyon's son Ralph. My, one would think it was spring in Antioch.

The Carney household was a beautiful setting for daughter Cindy's wedding. She had a lovely day Saturday to become Mrs. Chris Sigurdson. We hope the weather remains the same for the wedding of Judy Houghton and Jim Horsch. Congratulations to all of you.

Happy Birthday to Joan Toft on the 19 and Tom Gutowski on the 25.

Sunday, Aug. 18 the Antioch Firemen hosted out of town waterfights. The winning teams were first, Woodstock; second, Wheatland, Wis.; third, Wilmet, Wis. and fourth, Newport. It looks as though Antioch didn't get a trophy! Could it have been anything to do with the Carney wedding the night before?

Condolences go out to Jean O'Dell and children Paul and Debbie, on the loss of Jack O'Dell. Our prayers are with you at this sad time. Also to Carolyn Blanchette on the loss of her mother.

Don't forget to register for school! Summer is close to an end, and if you haven't had your dip at the Antioch Aqua Center yet you had better get up there as it is going to be closing.

Did any of you see Miss Antioch in the Lindenhurst Parade? She looked lovely being driven by Larry Hansen in that bright red car! After the Parade Janice then gave out the trophies to the waterfight teams! That alone should have been encouragement for the Antioch team to place!

The key word this week is - SCHOOL SUPPLIES! Good luck!

Grass Lake News

The Harris girls and Grandma Stann ventured down to Springfield last weekend, too. A valuable lesson was learned when they received the last room at the Holiday Inn. Call well in advance if you decide to go south to the fair. It is a very special event and you might end up staying in Lincoln, Ill. I know, JoAnn Fleschman wouldn't have a problem in Lincoln, but I couldn't remember the names of her aunts to see about getting a room. The fair was fun, and a trip to New Salem, Ill., to see Lincoln's reconstructed village was very educational. A four-hour drive with two children singing, "Illinois you put me in a happy state" was enough to remind me, why I'd rather fly!

The Antioch Bowling Lanes will be having their youth registration for bowling leagues starting on Friday, Aug. 23 and Aug. 30 from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m.,

This special date is Aug. 24 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Please note that this is the third and not the second as reported last week.

This is the week for anniversaries. Cindy and Al Vandrush will be celebrating their 14th anniversary on Aug. 28. Pat and Bernie Olszewski will be celebrating 31 years on Aug.

Lakeland Schools Bear Down on Students

A current survey of suspensions and expulsions of Lakeland area high school students reveals that some behavior codes are effective while others are not. Are the disciplinary codes unruly or are the students unruly?

The number of suspensions remained about the same at Grant High School in Fox Lake, while expulsions slightly increased. Principal Bud Scott said there are no real trends in behavior and the school has made no policy changes. However, Scott admits to a problem, "...we are going through a tight phase (in discipline)."

Round Lake High School's behavior code has undergone no major changes in the past eight years, but it is reviewed annually. Last year, 188 students out of 1500 were suspended only one time. "188 is not bad out of 1500," Asst. Supt. Dr. Robert Sherman said, and he can't remember any expulsions in the last ten years.

Craig Hiatt, of Warren High School, came up with a good solution to behavior problems by publishing a disciplinary precedent in the student handbook. The precedent has set a behavior standard for the students so they know where they're at.

Dr. Lawrence Callan, principal, said that discipline has been consistent for the past three to four years. The students and parents are happy, Callan said.

According to Callan, there were 57 students who were suspended just once in the 1984-85 school year. The number of students who were suspended more than once was seven, Callan said.

There were 27 expulsions for the year, according to Callan. "The reason for this is that we go by the law that says students who begin the school year cannot drop out. Eventually these students break enough rules where they are suspended," Callan added.

Carmel High School for Girls in Mundelein keeps a close watch on the young ladies before behavior problems have the chance to develop. It gets "very serious very quickly," Kathy Smolka, dean of students said. As a result, suspensions and expulsions rarely occur, but there are detentions and probation.

Grayslake High School is another school that must be doing the right thing. Suspensions dropped from 471 in 1983-84 to 310 in 1984-85. This overall decrease in suspensions can be attributed to the Saturday morning in-school suspension option. With this plan, parents can keep their children in classes by having them serve in-school suspensions on Saturday mornings instead of on school days.

Expulsions did increase from three in 1983-84 to six during 1984-85 because the same students were getting suspended repeatedly, Charlie Roberts, a high school administrator said. (Grayslake High School expels students until the end of the semester instead of the entire year)

A typical expulsion at Grayslake High involves a student's second drug or alcohol offense, or the repetition of suspensions. A student will be immediately expelled if he/she attacks a teacher; this has never occurred at GLH.

Roberts said there are no serious discipline problems at GLH. "We have a good student body and the parents really help," he said.

The biggest problems are tardiness and absenteeism. When employers call GLH, inquiring into a student's attendance/tardy record, officials won't lie for the student because they hope to teach responsibility - if a student won't consistently attend school, they won't go to work.

Antioch High School is also keeping peace. "We maintain a pretty steady stance on discipline," Principal Art Blecke said, and there have been no new disciplinary policies in recent years.

Suspensions dropped from 340 in 1983-84 to 233 in 1984-85; expulsions dropped from one to zero during this time. Suspensions vary; a student gets an automatic 10-day suspension for drug or alcohol use on school grounds, and a three-day suspension for fighting. Other reasons for suspension are truancy, smoking, class cuts, insubordination, misconduct, and lewd language.

The degree of punishment depends on the circumstances. The only reason for expulsion is selling or distributing drugs or alcohol on school grounds during school hours or at a school activity.

Wauconda High School, on the other hand, has been having greater disciplinary problems. Out of 750 students, there were 588 suspensions in 1984-85 as compared to 351 suspensions in 1983-84 - a more than 50 percent increase.

However, changes in discipline policies have been made. Those students suspended for the use of alcohol or drugs on school grounds have an alternative to the 10-day suspension. Such students are given the option to attend the Parkside Lodge Next Step Counseling Program and their suspension is reduced to five days. "The program allows students to rehabilitate," Asst. Principal Bob Kenison said.

This option does not apply to students who have been found selling or distributing drugs; these students get a 10-day suspension and are recommended for expulsion.

Last year, four boys attended the rehabilitation program after being found with "fake" amphetamines (drugs which are legal, but just as dangerous as the real amphetamines because they are so often abused).

Mundelein High School has been cracking down on its disciplinary procedures.

In-school suspensions increased from 276 in 1983-84 to 302 in 1984-85, and out-of-school suspensions increased from 188 to 238. In part, this increase can be attributed to the increase in school enrollment from 1,176 in 1983-84 to 1,204 in 1984-85.

One student was expelled last year (the first expulsion in three years) for threatening a teacher.

The same disciplinary rules have been in effect at Mundelein High over the last four years, but they have been adjusted. "We tightened up our rules," Supt. Wayne Bottoni said, and consistency in enforcing rules has increased steadily over the years.

A disciplinary classing system is now in effect at Mundelein High. Class 1 violations are the most serious; such as alcohol and drug abuse, and result in out-of-school suspension up to 10 days; they are handled by the dean. Class 2 violations are handled by the teacher and dean, and often result in in-school suspension for three to six days. Class 3 offenses involve common truancy and disruption, and usually result in a 15 to 40 minute detention; the teacher handles these problems by calling the student's parents.

Last year, the largest increase was missed detentions. Teachers are starting to crack down on students who don't show up for their due punishment.

Spotlighting Excellence

What the Back-to-School Movement is all about may have been encapsulated in the first order of business taken up by Dr. Don Klusendorf, new superintendent of Grant High School.

Klusendorf has taken a public position that academic excellence is the first order of business as far as he is concerned. Career preparation, extra curricular activities, family living, sports, contemporary society and all the other "enlightenments" that have come to be known as the high school curriculum are going to find themselves running second best to traditional academics as far as Klusendorf is concerned.

While traditionalists and old school fogies might wonder why Klusendorf's position is attracting editorial mention, the fact is that academic excellence has been down graded in modern education for far too many years.

As far as we're concerned, the outlook the new educator has enunciated is worth the spotlight, especially at a school where some years ago a citizen ran for the school board—and won election—on the platform that the wrestling team had to have new mats.

Sinking proficiency scores and floundering graduates in the nation's colleges are testimony that secondary education needs to seek new directions.

Perhaps it isn't fair to other schools that earnestly are focusing on academic excellence to single out one superintendent. We couldn't help but be impressed, however, by Supt. Klusendorf's decision to establish a new showcase in the school lobby to pay recognition to Grant's academic heavy hitters—right along with the sports all stars and other achievers.

Hard-Hearted Officials

A noble band of dedicated citizens hopes to breath new life into the battered and bruised Central Lake Family YMCA that faces eviction from Diamond Lake School for $200,000 in back rent due. We wish them well.

This seemingly impossible task will take on a ray of hope if there is broad-based support for the Y's program of service, which, ironically, has been of unquestioned quality. Getting everyone on the Central Lake bandwagon mainly means getting two key public officials to change their attitude.

Supt. Philip Simons and Steve Russ, president of the school board, have been unsympathetic toward the plight of Central Lake, which—also has other bills totalling about $100,000. Asked about the idea of forgiving the Y of its rent debt, Russ took the position that the rent is due taxpayers of the Diamond Lake district and cannot be "forgiven" by its elected representatives. Simons has been only slightly more charitable in his public utterances, insisting that the rent debt has to be "taken care of." Perhaps "forgiving" is an inappropriate, maybe even illegal, way of dealing with the debt. Making arrangements for a token settlement, however, ought to square affairs legally and satisfy the hard hearts.

Former State Rep. Donald Duester is general chairman of a "Save the Y" campaign. Working closely with Duester and the Y saviors will be Don Doerle, a retired school superintendent who has taken over as interim executive director, proving that not all school people think the Central Lake case is hopeless.

Hopefully, Duester can bring in his powers of political persuasion to sweep away doubts about the value of a full service Y to communities in central Lake County. We'd like to see Supt. Simons and President Russ change their minds and be the first to get the ball rolling for the "Save the Y" drive.

RTA Feeling Better

The Regional Transportation Authority, the beleaguered creature of the state designed to provide for our suburban public transportation—and Chicago public transportation—has achieved a dramatic turnaround, not because of improved service or drastic ticket reductions but because of the way it keeps books.

As it is about to issue $100 million in working cash notes, the RTA has been awarded the highest possible credit rating by two major Wall Street investment rating agencies. Ratings given by Moody's Investors and Standard & Poor's are the highest possible for short term municipal securities.

Even as the buses are as empty as ever and the trains are as crowded as ever, the RTA these days is maintaining a strong conservation fiscal policy—a "tight ship." Much credit for the encouraging financial picture is due RTA Chairman Samuel K. Skinner, a tough and honest administrator and remembered for his federal prosecuting days, who took over Oct. 1, 1984.

Along with badly needed cost and staff cuts, Skinner has been able to achieve operational efficiency through the three service boards—the Chicago Transit Authority; Metra, the commuter rail division, and Pace, the suburban bus division. Apparently, the new RTA managers also have been able to screen off or at least minimize pressures from Chicago political interests to keep the money-flood gates open.

What has attracted attention of the rating agencies are factors like the RTA's conservative balance sheet and realistic approach to finances; the board of directors' willingness to face up to financial considerations early and its indication that it will keep the RTA on sound fiscal ground; and the board of directors' resolve to hold down rising costs, to cut RTA expenses, and its encouragement of the three service boards to do everything possible to cut their own costs and keep them down.

Hopefully, the financial and political problems of RTA's past that resulted in a disenchanted citizenry and sharp fare increases in 1981, are a thing of the past. The increase resulted in ridership losses which still have not been fully recovered.

Perhaps it is the new leadership or the maturing of the agency itself, but we are among those who have a better feeling about RTA now than ever before.

Minor Irritant Becomes Major Experience

by BILL SCHROEDER

As the Chicago Cub pennant express sinks slowly in the west and the threat of a player strike gave brief pause to wonder if there would be a full major league season, this unreconstructed die-hard fan took time to ponder what would have happened if the players had hung up their gloves and spikes for good earlier this month?

I finally decided that life would go on, especially since our nation has lived through the strike nonsense before. Since the new Cubs are really the old Cubs, after all, alternatives to baseball turned out to be ridiculously easy to find. There was more golf, more boating and earlier-than-usual tune-in on pro football and one that had special appeal to the lady of the house, finishing a landscaping project.

One alternative to the dilemma turned out to be not erasing baseball from my life, but merely switching the level of interest, or more correctly, getting interested in a different level of baseball—the minor league variety. And that turned out to be a pleasant experience!

In this locality you don't have to travel far to find the minors, just a short drive to Kenosha where the Kenosha Twins play at memorable Simmons Field on Sheridan Rd. The Minnesota farm club is enjoying its second season in Kenosha and has developed a loyal following of fans who have come to enjoy the Class A variety of professional baseball in an area formerly dominated by the Cubs and cultivated in recent years by the Milwaukee Brewers.

The Kenosha Twins this year are mostly young men in their first or second year in the pros who hail from California or Florida. When playing at home they room and board with Kenosha families. Their Wisconsin "parents" and neighbors usually are in the stands cheering them on during home stands. The young players have their eyes on Orlando (Class AA) and Toledo (Class AAA), which is the pathway to Minneapolis.

They play a lively and entertaining brand of baseball. Defensively, Class A players can hold their own with the guys on the parent club. What they are learning in Kenosha is how to hit, the Twins system and how to cope with the mental side of being a professional athlete. The other night we saw the Twins defeat Waterloo Indians (Cleveland farm club) 4-0. Both teams played errorless ball. The K-Twins got a well pitched game from Al Cardwood. The delight to this fan was the play of Kenosha's catcher, sandy-haired Greg Hill who possesses a cannon arm and the savvy to decoy two opponents into futile attempts to steal or take an extra base. Greg also displayed power at the plate. He'll be in the majors before long.

Simmons Field has major league dimensions, an excellent field and good lights. We found it immaculately clean. Convenient parking is free. Admission prices are $2 general and $3 for box seats. What the heck, it's easy to splurge. In addition, the Twins sell those wonderful Wisconsin brats.

So a minor irritant in the life of a sports fan turned into a major experience. Here's to farm club baseball!

GOING THROUGH—Apparently Dist. 4 County Board Rep. Norman Geary and Don Strenger, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve District, have reached a compromise—again—over their differences on acquisition of Brae Loch Country Club by the district.

A second appraisal is being prepared on the 158-acre course that will fix the current value by an expert who is acceptable by all sides in the controversial purchase. Geary reportedly has new assurances from Strenger that he will not veto the purchase has he did in May. The appraisal is due Friday, August 23, at which time Geary is expected to move for another special call meeting for the commissioners to act on Brae Loch acquisition.

The appraisal procedure is supposed to satisfy any doubt amongst members of the land acquisition committee as to what Brae Loch is worth in the current real estate market.

Foster Parents Special People

by GLORIA DAVIS

"We thought she was becoming a part of our family but since she keeps running away we feel she's just using us as a home base, a place to sleep," said a distraught foster mother who was seeking help from the agency that had placed a teenage girl in her home.

This was the third foster home in less than a three-year span for the teenager we'll call Cherrie. Cherrie had come under the care of a child welfare agency because of a history that included alcoholic parents and suffering sexual abuse at home.

Cherrie has a boyfriend whose bad influence keeps her running away from the homes she is placed in.

Becoming a foster parent is an involved and difficult undertaking that is purely one of dedication, service and love and commitment. It certainly is no longer a financially profitable one.

Foster parents receive $193 a month for a teenager's room and board plus $43 a month for clothing. Each foster child gets $23 a month personal allowance for spending money, reports Jeanne Sowa, program coordinator of foster home licensing and child care placement at the Central Baptist Children's Home, a private child welfare agency in Lake Villa, under the executive direction of Don Mertic.

But for those who are willing to undertake the job, being a foster parent is an extremely gratifying one.

The big problem for the kids is dealing with a complete change in home environment, friends and a new school. The foster parents have to learn to deal with children, most abused, who have problems. Most of the prospective foster children are sent to Central Baptist, a nationwide organization, by state and local child care agencies. Locally, the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services refers children to the Central Baptist Home.

The average child placed by Central is 10 years old. Sowa said that it is more difficult to place older and teenage children than it is the younger ones. Parents today have difficulty in dealing with average teens. Most foster children that are in their teens have additional emotional and often physical problems.

The psychologists and social workers at the center spend most of their time helping these foster parents and the foster children themselves.

Central Baptist has also placed many younger children who have suffered physical and sexual abuse. The average time spent in a foster home by a foster child is one year, but some stay up to four or five years.

Just before the intersection of Grand Ave. and Rte. 83, in Lake Villa, on the east side of the road, there is a small sign that says Central Baptist Children's Home.

Set back from the road there are several buildings nestled in 33 acres of rolling green hills.

This picturesque spot used to be a children's orphanage before funding put orphanages out of style. Now many of the buildings are leased to family service agencies and the social workers employed at the Central Baptist Children's Home are mainly involved in placing foster children.

Some foster families also live on the grounds.

Although there is a religious connotation in the organization's name that stems from its founding by a Baptist minister in 1895, today it is a non-sectarian private child welfare agency.

Its nationwide annual budget that amounts to millions of dollars is funded by private donations, Title 20 and state grants. Locally the leasing of the buildings also adds to the organization's income.

Some of the buildings house the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services, the Homemakers Program, Head Start and a teen group home.

The beautiful acreage used to be part of the Peacock Jewellers estate. It was purchased by Central Baptist in 1948 and used as a children's residential home until 1977. One of the larger buildings, now being used for storage, was an alternative high school for teens that couldn't make it in the secondary mainstream. It closed when its funding ran out.

Today, Lake Villa is the main office of the welfare agency with other area offices in Elkhorn, Wis., Chicago and Champaign.

According to Sowa, today's society calls for the deinstitutionalizing of the lives of children, who for one reason or another, need better care, hence the foster child program.

With 100 foster children placed in the area, in 90 homes, the agency still finds itself with more children for placement in a home environment than it has applications by potential foster parents.

Sowa said the most frustrating part of the job is the length of time it takes to get a foster family licensed after they make an application. It sometimes takes four months.

Most of these children have behavioral emotional or physical problems. Presently in the area there are nine group homes professionally dealing with children with the most difficult problems.

The eighth annual Foster Family Picnic, designed to get area foster families together, has been planned for Sunday, Sept. 15.

Although the event is mainly for foster families, there will be an informational booth there for anyone interested in becoming a foster parent.

EYEWEAR, NO LONGER A NECESSITY?

EYE SURGERY WHICH TAKES PLACE WHILE THE PATIENT SNOOZES IN AN OUTPATIENT CENTER NOW OFFERS THE REALISTIC HOPE OF REMOVING EYEGLOSS DEPENDENCY FOR MANY WHO ARE UNCOMFORTABLE WITH CONTACT LENSES OR WHO SEEK FREEDOM FROM EYEWEAR FOR PERSONAL OR PROFESSIONAL REASONS.

THESE SURGICAL TECHNIQUES, FIRST USED IN THE U.S.S.R. AND IN COLUMBIA, CAUSE BETTER FOCUSING OF LIGHT WITHIN THE EYE BY RESHAPING THE CORNEAL WINDOW.

IN THE SOVIET TECHNIQUE (FYODOROV), CALLED RADIAL KERATOTOMY, HALF MILLIMETER-DEEP RADIAL CUTS GOING FROM THE PUPIL'S EDGE TOWARD THE WHITE PORTION ALLOW A NATURAL FLATTENING EFFECT ON THE CENTRAL CORNEA TO OCCUR.

REFINED IN THE U.S.S.R. SINCE 1973 AND IN THE UNITED STATES SINCE 1978, MORE THAN 100,000 KERATOTOMIES HAVE BEEN PERFORMED WORLD-WIDE.

SEVERAL U.S. STUDIES HAVE RECONFIRMED ITS SAFETY AND HIGH EFFECTIVENESS, THOUGH SOME RARE, SERIOUS COMPLICATIONS HAVE OCCURRED.

KERATOTOMY CORRECTS NEARSIGHTEDNESS AND ASTIGMATISM.

IN THE COLUMBIAN TECHNIQUE (BARRAQUER), THE SURGEON USES HIGH-TECH EQUIPMENT TO REMOVE A QUARTER-MILLIMETER-THICK CONTACT LENS-SHAPED WAFER FROM THE FRONT EYE WALL.

THIS PROCEDURE, WHICH HAS A 25 YEAR TRACT RECORD, CORRECTS FARSIGHTEDNESS AS WELL AS NEARSIGHTEDNESS BEYOND THE RANGE OF KERATOTOMY.

Rep. Frederick Decides To Seek Reelection

Several weeks ago Virginia Fiester Frederick, incumbent state representative from the 59th District, indicated that she was weighing the possibility of running for the 30th Senate District seat being vacated by Senator David Barkhausen's decision to enter the Illinois Attorney General race.

"After several weeks of deliberation on the wisdom of my running for the Illinois Senate, I have now decided to seek reelection to my House seat instead. A major factor in my decision is the seniority I have been able to build up in the four terms I have served as a Representative (from the 59th District. My present position, as senior Republican member of the House from Lake County, contributes greatly to my present effectiveness both in Springfield and in the District. With each successive year in the House I see that my effort on key House Committees and on the House floor are strengthened. I do not want to set all of this aside."

Well-Behaved Dog Brings Bond

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

From the very beginning of time, when dogs and their owners walked the earth together thousands of years ago, dog owners have known the value of their animals. There is a human-animal bond. Plus it is fun and fulfilling for both.

It helps the owner with health benefits by reducing the level of anxiety. It can be good for the owner both mentally and physically. Also, it has been found that when a person simply pets a cat or dog, it lowers the person's blood pressure.

A pet can help a person through the hard times in life by just being there. The pet is loyal, gives constant affection and his is non-judgmental. Your pet doesn't care who you are, what you look like, how much money you make or anything else. Your love sees him through a happy life that he will, in turn, give back to you unconditionally.

Your pet will bring an order to life. For example, he needs to be let out and fed about the same times each day. This, in turn, keeps the owner active. In some cases, a pet can be a person's family, when he/she has none. It can be a child a couple never had. He can bring out in you playfulness and laughter, and dogs almost always provide one of the most universal ways of eliciting smiles and pleasure.

A pet can lend an uncritical ear and a supportive shoulder for you to cry on. About 99 percent of pet owners do talk to their pets. And 94 percent talk to pets like they would another human. When a person talks to animals, their blood pressure drops, whereas it rises when they talk with another person. When you talk with your pet, you are likely to pet and stroke him. This will lead to further relaxation.

Pets aren't miracle workers. In fact, a well-behaved pet must be trained by the owner. In most cases dealing with the training of your pet, you will want to follow four steps. First, get the dog's attention. Second, you must correct him if found misbehaving. Third, provide him with an acceptable alternative and fourth, praise him for correct behavior.

If you are patient, you can correct even the most exasperating bad habit that your pet might have. Start with even better communication with your dog. Really get to know him, his likes and dislikes.

When you are going to train him, you must be very certain just what you want your pet to do as well as not do. Don't confuse him by changing the rules even a little bit.

mediately afterwards. If he had done it even a few minutes before, he will not know what he is being punished for. You should remember to correct your pet in the same way each time and reinforce what you want of him and don't tolerate the unacceptable behavior, not even once.

Your sharp voice lets him know it is wrong and that you are not pleased. Use a soft voice when he is good, and never scream at your pet or drag him to the scene of the crime. He wants only to please you and to hear that soft, kind voice. So, eventually, he will catch on to how to get it.

Some animals will do anything for attention and if the only time that he gets it is to be bad, then he will be bad. Make sure that you spend some time each day with your pet for that needed attention. Some pets get very lonely and unhappy when left alone. They miss their owners so very much and in turn will misbehave for something to keep busy.

A mesh gate should be used to keep the dog in one room. Never close a door on him or lock him in a closet. Give him his bed, toys, dish of water, and maybe a rawhide chew. Turn on the radio. At first, make your trips short from home and praise him if he was good while you were away.

The key to a good relationship with your pet is to understand him and what his problem might be. It could be boredom, anxiety or just not knowing any better.

Work with your pet and love him. He will learn what is expected of him. The two of you will be the very best of friends. Your pet will truly be good for you and your health. There must be a little give and take for both of you.

Lake County 4-H'ers Compete At State Fair

Lake County 4-H'ers had a blue-ribbon day at the Illinois State Fair on Aug. 10.

Local youths exhibited projects ranging from arts and crafts to horticulture to woodworking. When the judges finished their reviews, the area young people picked up their share of the honors.

The Fair's traditional theme, "Where Illinois Gets Together," is representative of the many attractions and activities that were available until the Fair closed on Aug. 18. More than 7,000 Illinois young people exhibited projects in the Junior Division of the Fair.

Eight Lake County 4-H'ers received coveted "Superior Awards" for their entries. Superior ratings are awarded at the discretion of the judges to entries they consider outstanding.

They were Christopher Horcher, Wheeling, Commercial Gardening; Bill Dermody, Zion, Photography; Darren Weber, Round Lake Beach; Dennis M. Walsh, Antioch, Home Furnishings; Katie Lemke, Grayslake, Home Furnishings; Rhea Dittich, Lindenhurst, Interior Design; Sue Lemke, Antioch, Stitchery; and Cathy Enz, Gurnee, Leathercraft.

In the "Share-the Fun" competition, the Eager Beavers 4-H club earned an "A" rating for its act entitled, "Midnight Magic." Mandy Heffernan, Wauconda, earned an "A" and a Superior rating for her performance as emcee.

Young people chosen to represent their counties at the State Fair are the "cream of the 4-H crop." Lake County 4-H'ers who participated in the 1985 State Fair, their exhibits and their ratings include the following:

Lenny Enz of Gurnee, Woodworking - A; Deborah Fandrei of Grayslake, Flower Arranging - B;

Karleen Tanimura of Mundelein, Sketching - A; Georgie Glass of Mundelein, Printing - A; Gary Walton of Mundelein, Small Engines - A; Kristin Johnson of Mundelein, Vegetables - A; Darren R. were the following:

The youngsters are among about 125,000 involved in the 4-H program, which is conducted by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

Pet-Wise

You must be clear with your dog on correction. Catch him in the act of misbehaving and get his attention by clapping your hands. Then, sharply tell him "no." When he stops misbehaving, give him an alternative. If he had been chewing, the alternative would be his chew toy. When he chews that, praise him.

New Service Helps Avoid Repair Visit Fee

Illinois Bell is offering a new service to help customers avoid repair visit charges of about $30 or more.

Called "Line-Backer," the service is being offered because most of the repair visits Illinois Bell customers request are for trouble in the telephone set, a problem the company is legally forbidden to repair.

When customers have problems with their telephone service, they typically call Illinois Bell. The company then tests the line from its office to try to see if the problem is in the telephone set or the telephone line.

If the problem can't be determined, customers then often ask Illinois Bell to come out and investigate the trouble.

Because Illinois Bell has been prohibited by law from maintaining telephones since the breakup of the Bell system, Illinois Bell's technicians cannot repair the telephone set.

However, the company still must assess a charge for the time the technician takes to establish the cause of the trouble.

Customers now can pay a monthly charge of $2 for the new Line-Backer service to avoid the repair visit charge and help resolve the problem, said Larry Renfro, Illinois Bell's product manager for Line-Backer service.

"If you call a TV technician because you think you have a problem with your television set, the technician is going to charge you for making the visit, even if the problem is in your electrical outlet or antenna," Renfro said. "We're faced with the same situation," he added.

"If you have a Line-Backer service, you never have to pay a separate repair visit charge. Also, you never have to worry about knowing whether to call us, or the company where you got the equipment. We'll check all service requests for no additional charge," Renfro said.

Customers can also get an additional feature of the service, called Line-Backer Plus. For $1 more a month, customers can borrow a phone while they are having their phones fixed or buying new ones. The company has contracted with an outside firm to lend telephone sets to customers.

Frequently, the problem is in the telephone line inside the customer's home or office, a situation customers are responsible for fixing unless they pay 39 cents (44 cents for businesses) a month per line and participate in Illinois Bell's wire maintenance plan.

Line-Backer or Line-Backer Plus service can be added to the wire maintenance plan to form a comprehensive package, costing $2.25 and $3.25, respectively.

The Line Backer Plus package helps a customer avoid a repair visit charge; lets a customer use a loaner phone for up to 60 days if there's a problem with the phone; and requires Illinois Bell to resolve the trouble if the problem is in the customer's inside wiring.

Customers in the "312" area code interested in signing up for Line Backer can call 1-800-428-3111; others can call 1-800-428-2111.

Neal Underscores Censure

Lake County Republican Chairman Bob Neal informed party committeemen that the GOP Executive Committee had unanimously censured Libertyville Township Sup. "Mike" Graham. The censure resolution alleges that "F.T. Mike" Graham, having been duly elected the Republican Precinct Committeeman in (Libertyville) precinct 170 saw fit to endorse the less qualified Democratic candidate because of petty politics" in the 1982 elections.

On Oct. 29, 1982, Graham circulated a campaign statement to his precinct voters in which he endorsed the Democratic gubernatorial ticket of Adlai E. Stevenson III and Grace Mary Stern. Graham claimed, "I believe that Grace Mary Stern is a once-in-a-lifetime candidate and is a better candidate than (GOP Gov. Jim) Thompson or Stevenson." The three-term Lake County Clerk Stern of Highland Park was the first woman ever nominated for statewide office by the Ill. Democratic Party. Gov. Thompson defeated the Stevenson-Stern slate by 5,074 votes out of 3,627,128 ballots cast.

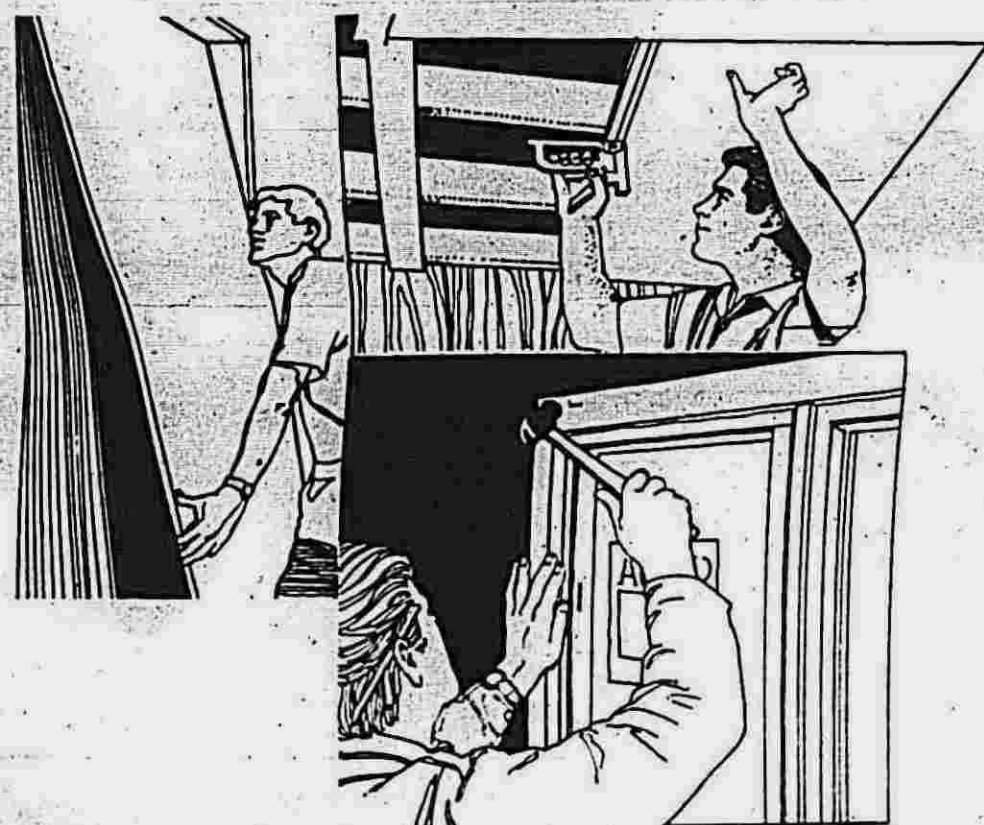

At the same time, Graham also expressed the hope that one of the three countywide offices, sheriff, treasurer or clerk, would be captured by a Democrat in the 1982 elections. Graham observed "I believe that one-party control spawns bad government whether it be in Democratic-controlled Cook County or Republican-controlled Lake County." Neal suggested that the Graham censure would help establish a consistent standard of party discipline. In 1984 Neal ordered the GOP Executive Committee to censure two Republican committeemen for supporting Democratic candidates in last year's elections. The two censured committeemen were Dr. James C. "Doc" Brophy of Ingleside and Janet Kapischke of Lindenhurst.

Chairman Neal alluded to this issue in his correspondence with the committeemen on the Graham matter. Neal wrote, "Since the censure of first, Jim Brophy, and then Janet Kapischke, many of you asked your township chairman as well as myself: 'What about Mike Graham?' You were always told, 'We must have documented proof.'"

Finally, after months of comments, the documentation was submitted to your Executive Committee at its June 17 meeting and the censure vote was taken. The decision was unanimous that Mike Graham be censured." Neal concluded, "We cannot force anyone to resign, however, please understand the Executive Committee is emphatic in their decision to censure any committeeman who supports a non-Republican candidate."

County Unit Makes Goal

The Chairman of the Income Development Committee for the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society, William A. Robie, Lake Bluff, has announced that the unit had reached its financial goal for the 1984/85 fiscal year, which ends Aug. 31.

"Meeting the demand of ever increasing monetary goals is not new to this unit," said Robie, "and the board can be proud of the volunteers who have assisted them in attaining our $486,000 mark a month early."

In the past four years, the Lake County goal has increased 50 percent and it is anticipated that in 1986 the Unit will be challenged to raise in excess of $530,000.

American Cancer Society programs which service residents in our unit area create the insistent demand for additional dollars for their support and this lends a great importance to a special event such as the Charity Week held at Highland Park High School this past April.

Eugene Martin, vice chairman, Grayslake National Bank, had the pleasant duty, as a member of the Lake County Unit's Income Development Committee, to receive proceeds from this fund-raiser held at the school.

Kim Reitman, treasurer of the Highland Park High School Student Senate, was also chairperson for the week of fund-raising which resulted in the $2,300 check presented to Martin at the area office of the Cancer Society in Waukegan on behalf of 2,200 students at the school.

It is a tradition, according to Reitman, that on vote of the student body, proceeds from the week-long activity are donated annually to one national and one local charity. This year the students raised a grand total of $4,600 for charity. Sponsors for the Student Senate were Mrs. Mary Swanson and Dr. Vernon Hein.

The contract was awarded to Peter Baker & Son Co., Lake Bluff, which expects to complete the job by Sept. 30.

The road will be closed to traffic. However, a signed detour will be in effect.

Motorists are cautioned to be alert to barricades, warning signs, lights and the contractor's equipment.

The Lob Can Be Very Important To Arsenal

by CELESTE PREGRACKE
USPTA

As I grew up in tennis, the lob was considered a sissy shot. If you were a real player you would never lob. That is so wrong! When used properly, the lob can be considered an important part of your arsenal.

Defensively, it can get you out of trouble. If you're out of position, off balance, or running hard, throw up a high ball to give you time to recover.

Offensively, the most common use is to hit over the net person's head just high enough so they can't jump up, but deep enough so it will be difficult or impossible to chase down.

There are other very important reasons to use the lob. You can throw the opponent off balance by mixing up hard shots with the slower, higher shot. Especially if your opponent favors hitting hard shots.

You can wear the opponents out by drawing them up to the net then lobbing over their heads.

If your opponent is impatient, force him into errors by making them wait for that ball to come down.

Tennis Tips

Many players can't or won't hit an overhead smash so lob to them.

Showing a poacher that you can lob well can push them away from the net.

If your drives suddenly abandon you, pull yourself together with time, hit it high.

So don't be afraid to lob but know when to use it.

Sequoits Starting To Fill In The Holes

by GLORIA DAVIS

Before Antioch High School's (ACHS) football practice started at the beginning of last week, veteran coach Steve Wapon knew that he had many holes to fill in his offensive line with almost the whole starting lineup graduating last year.

There's also a few vacancies to fill in ACHS's defensive line.

Sixty seven have turned out for the 1985 grid season. That number will be cut to 55 about the time that this article is being read.

The player who at present has the best chance to be ACHS's starting quarterback is 6'2", 170 pound junior Mark DoBosh who started at that position for the last three of ACHS's injury-beset games last year.

'He's looking better everyday,' said Wapon.

Although it's still pretty early in the practice game, Wapon is also expecting good things from tailback Pat Brucks and fullback Rick Turco. Offensive lineman Matt Humphreys "is starting to look good," Wapon said and so is another returnee, 6'1", 231 pound linebacker Bob Johnson.

According to Wapon, Johnson has two years of varsity experience which has him looking strong.

Returning linebackers Tom Homan and Larry Parker, receivers Rob Visee, senior defensive linebacker Tony Teneyck (injured most of the '84-'85 season), 6'3", 230 pound tackle Ken White and defensive backfield players John Wierschem and Jamie Zoepfel are improving everyday with Wapon expecting more as practice continues.

Other key returnees are Chris Haley, receiver, Don Gunther, end, and Steve Hanson, defensive back.

Antioch finished last season with almost an even split with a 4-5 record. The Sequoits are going to make a great stab at improving that record.

ACHS had a rather unlucky '84-'85 season with a pile-up of injuries and things just not going their way much of the time.

"The team is still a big 67-piece puzzle and we'll have to wait and see how the pieces fit," added Wapon.

The actual kick-off day for the 1985-'86 grid season at ACHS will be Saturday, Aug. 24, with everyone out to wish the Sequoits a successful year.

The Antioch Viking Junior Football Team, the frosh and soph teams will all be out scrimmaging for visitors and the pom-pom girls and the cheerleaders will also be performing.

The varsity team will scrimmage at 2 p.m.

Wapon calls it a dress rehearsal before opening afternoon on Saturday, Aug. 31 when Antioch will face an always strong, well coached Mundelein team in Antioch for their first game of the season.

GCHS

Grayslake Community High School football coach Tom Wittum had 31 students go out for the varsity football team this year.

"We have five lettermen returning this year," Wittum said. This year there are 16 seniors on the team.

"We are a little short on experience but I feel we have a good team," Wittum said.

Grayslake will start its season at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 31 at Addison (Driscoll).

Johnsburg

Thirty-six players went out for the Johnsburg varsity football team, and none will be cut, said head coach Mike Roberts. Roberts said he is optimistic about a good season for his team. But, he said, the big question remains as to if the team will use its potential. Roberts said he hopes for a very balanced attack this season.

Carmel

Carmel High School began its football season with 150 students at the first practice on Aug. 12. The students are divided into about 50 players on each team.

Fifteen seniors are returning, of that, between seven or eight were starters last year.

Head Coach Jim Rejc said he will use the same techniques as in the past such as throwing the ball often. Physically, the Corsairs are not big but, according to Rejc, the team has more speed than in the past. "Our quickness and speed seem greatly improved," he said.

Key returning players who Rejc will rely on include offensive center Craig Stahele, John Terlap, quarterback and Rod Whittier, halfback. Whittier was named Most Valuable Player at Carmel last year.

In the defense area, Rejc will look to Chris Budris, defensive back and Chuck Foy, leftback, for leadership.

The Corsairs are getting ready with a basic game plan of throwing the ball with sound defense for the first game against Waukegan East at home at 8 p.m. on Aug. 30.

Rejc said he does not know how much to expect from the opponent since it has a new coach.

WTHS

Warren Twp. Football coach Reggie Hughes has 35 players on this year's varsity team.

"We had a very senior orientated team last year and six of our players have gone on to college ball," Hughes said.

The only two returning lettermen this year is offensive guard John Carnick who weighs 190 at 6'2" and fullback Jim Burke who weighs 204 at 5'10".

Hughes feels that one player in particular, Pekada Bennett, will be a help to the team this year. "He was removed from the team early in the season last year for disciplinary reasons but I feel he's showing a lot of promise for the coming season," Hughes said.

"We have a lot of experience and skill coming in with the juniors this year but with seniors who have no experience its hard to say what will happen," Hughes said.

Warren begins its season with a home game against North Chicago at 8 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 30.

Mundelein

"I think we're significantly ahead of last year," Mundelein Head Coach Gary Heifner said, after the first football practice session held Aug. 12.

After watching his team during the "smooth" practice, he was able to analyze athletic qualities he has to work with. With an average team weight of 175 pounds, Heifner said the team has more speed than in the past. He said they will play what he calls a simplified offense and defense.

Out of 33 coming out for varsity, nine are returning players. The rest are first-time out seniors or juniors coming up from junior varsity.

An asset that will help with team running speed is the fact that three players are from the track team: Don Maresh, John Carr and Jeff Geary. "They all have good foot speed and will be key players at some time," Heifner said.

Mundelein's season will open with an away game against Antioch High School at 2 p.m. on Aug. 31 at Antioch. Sophomores will play at noon that day and the freshmen are scheduled to play on Aug. 30 at Antioch.

Heifner said he expects a tough opener because Antioch is known for its excellent athletic program with the number of students participating. Last year, Antioch beat Mundelein in a rainstorm, Heifner recalls.

All players are vying for defensive positions but are trying out for offensive positions. Those seeking specific spots are listed below.

Those hoping for a Lineman spot are: Tom Johnson, Scott Kapchinski, Rich Kurczak, Todd Lackie, Tim Matthias, Tony Pianline, Paul Shaffer, Tony Sidari, Brad Wagner, Mike Weber, Rich Clausen and Jim Zaucha.

Potential Quarterbacks are: Martin Butler, Mike Lech and Jim Frank.

Two are vying for Tight End positions: Tom Bateman and Steve Pape while four are awaiting a spot for Runningback, including John Carr, BNob Carneke, Dave Rogers and Bob Peters. Wingback hopefuls are Jeff Geary, Mike Keyzer and Don Maresh.

Those auditioning to be Split Ends are: Tim Barr, Jeff Davis, Mike Joerger, Russ Kane, Steve Hickey, John McNulty, Scott Rothman and Colin Struggles.

Conference To Convene

Small-business leaders from across the state will reconvene last year's Illinois Conference on Small Business Sept. 12 at the Springfield Hilton. Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-32) announced.

Sponsored by the Governor's Small Business Advisory Council, the 1985 State House Conference on Small Business will serve as a forum for small business leaders, trade and business associations, labor, academic institutions and others to discuss the implementation status of recommendations from last year's conference.

In May 1984, more than 400 small-business leaders produced a report with 55 innovative recommendations for strengthening the state's economy, especially small business.

"Small business is the backbone of our economy, responsible for about 80 percent of new jobs," Sen. Schaffer said.

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals.

Application forms will be available at the time of registration. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the application and return it to the school where their children are enrolled. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. An application, which does not contain all of the following information, cannot be processed by the school: 1) the total household income AND the source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.) OR the household's food stamp case number if your household is on food stamps, 2) names of all household members, 3) social security numbers of all household members 21 years of age or older or the word NONE for any adult household member who does not have a social security number, and 4) the signature of an adult household member. "Household" is defined as a group of related or non-related individuals, who are not residents of an institution or boarding house, who are living together as one economic unit.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying data. Applications may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If your child is approved for free or reduced price meal benefits, the household must report to the school increases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) or when your household size decreases.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for free or reduced price meals for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy, the Director of Business Affairs will review applications and determine eligibility. Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: the Superintendent, 316 South Rosedale Court, Round Lake, Illinois 60073; phone, (312) 546-5522.

Each school and the office of the Superintendent has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

In the operation of the child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

A Long Drag

A Soo Line train dragged this 1979 Mercury Capri 2,144 feet before coming to a streaking halt on Aug. 15. The driver of the car, Gregory Stahl, is listed in critical condition at Condell Memorial Hospital. The accident occurred at a private crossing, approximately one-quarter of a mile north of Rollins Rd. in Round Lake Beach. The train was clocked at going 40 miles per hour when it struck the car. —Photo by Debbie Horve.

Health Dept. Tests Lakes

The Lake County Health Dept. collected and tested water samples from beaches in Lake County during July under the Swimming Pool and Bathing Beach Act, Chapter 111.2.

The following beaches were tested in the Lakeland Publishing readership area:

Bangs Lake - Cooks, Elmcrest Sub., Harbour Club, Lake Villa Sub., Lindy's Landing, Maiman's Lake Shore Park, Maiman's Lakeside Manor, Phil's Resort, Spencer Highlands, Sunny Hill, and Wauconda Park District; Lake Catherine - Feltner's North, Feltner's South, and Warriners Sub.; Cedar Lake - Allendale School, Belmore Park, Cedar Lake Park, Fowler's Sub., Lehmann Park, and Sherwood Park; Channel Lake - Channel Lake Shores Sub., Grapevine Sub., Smith Sub., Wasz's Playtime, and Woodbine

Mason Comes Swinging In First Pronouncement

Don Mason, expected candidate for Lake County sheriff in 1988, came out swinging in his first campaign pronouncement.

Mason declared that he will run for the Republican nomination in the primary. At the same time, he called upon his opponent, Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox, to remove two deputies for dereliction of duty in connection with the drowning of Waukegan boy.

The Lake Villa resident, who ran against Babcox in 1982 as a Democrat, said he was acting as a citizen in a letter request of the sheriff to remove Sgt. Ralph Connard and Deputy Gordon Johnson as part of a Lake County Merit Commission inquiry into the drowning of William Ross, age 12.

The boy lost his life Aug. 11, after being taken from the water off the Waukegan breakwater in Lake Michigan. The boy was pronounced dead at Victory Hospital.

Mason outlined his political plans and the charge against Babcox in a whirlwind tour of newspaper offices and broadcast stations Tuesday and Wednesday.

The candidate distributed a letter to Babcox in which he stated in part: "I feel as does all the citizens I have talked to that this incident cannot go without a complete investigation and due process be brought against these two deputies."

Mason charged that Connard, in taking charge of rescue operation, delayed qualified lifeguards and divers from entering the water to search for the boy.

By the time his body was retrieved, the Ross youth was lifeless. Rescuers revived him momentarily, according to Mason.

As he spoke to reporters,

Mason described Connard as a "political policeman."

In response to questions, Mason said he will be devoting full-time to the 1986 campaign. He said he has separated himself from a food and liquor business in which he was involved in unincorporated Lake Villa Township from February, 1984, until February of this year.

Mason garnered 46 percent of the general election vote in 1982 in his race against Babcox in what political experts called a "surprising" showing. They were separated by 10,000 votes.

Self-employed as a private investigator following the election, Mason said his goal will be to "clean up" the sheriff's office and improve financial management of the department.

Mason described himself as an independent Republican. "The county is swinging independent. I think my candidacy reflects the growing number of citizens who consider themselves independent but lean toward the Republican party."

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Arians are in a very positive aspect at this time. Direct approaches are favored over round-about methods. Expect favorable responses to your queries. Good luck.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Nothing throws the bull who is prepared to meet a new challenge. Talented Taureans are right on target and right on time with ideas that soon pay big rewards.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Inaction results in unwanted reaction later on. It's best to deal with current matters before taking on new responsibilities. Approach things a step at a time.

Cancer (June 21-July 22) Expect a challenge that might cause a few problems at first. Remember: Moon Children can thrive on change if they believe in themselves. Go to it and work for success.

Leo (Jul. 23-Aug. 22) Prepare for upcoming financial opportunity by stocking up on staples for your den and being prudent in all other purchases. Avoid dissipating reserve on luxuries.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Use your penchant for prudence as details of a new financial situation start to unfold. Be wary of easy promises. Check every clause of every claim.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) What seems like a setback is actually a place on which you can stand while you look over a whole new vista. Salome's tip: Make some changes in your usual approach.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Your involvement is temporary unless you complicate matters by getting more deeply into those minor squabbles within the workplace. Domestic situations improve.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Autumn vacation schedules may have to be reworked. Best advice to avoid problems later is to prepare backup plans now. Be flexible if changes are called for.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Stop talking and start walking. If situations become too unwieldy, step away until things ease. Being in the middle of a muddle is not what you need to do at this time.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) A stronger image is favored. True friends will respect your needs but they need to know exactly how you feel. Be open with them. Expect honesty in return.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Show loved ones you really care. Take more care of yourself! Pace future commitments to fit in with your real needs. Not everything that glows sheds light.
